WHAT WE DO

As COVID19 sweeps across the globe, forcing people to stay inside away from friends or family, the need for companionship is greater than ever. That's where La Frogge comes in. For all of those who feel lonely and trapped, in need of something to brighten up their day, La Frogge pairs them with an emotional support frog, a friend and ally to make their day better.

OUR HISTORY

We started as a small company with a simple goal: to connect humans with our slimy friends. What started as just a dream quickly grew into a business, first out of a garage and then—as we became more popular—into a storefront in beautiful Santa Potato California.

What never changed though was our love for frogs.

WHO WE ARE

The company operates out of Southern California, out of a relatively small building so costs are pretty low, and it operated primarily online so there is no need for a storefront. All they need is a location large enough to house their frogs, and a shipping network capable of shipping live frogs without stressing them out or injuring them. The frog storage and shipping comprise the majority of the cost, with the food and maintenance of the frogs being the other main expense.
